(ii) after paragraph (a), substituted as aforesaid the following new paragraph shall be inserted and remaining paragraphs shall be renumbered accordingly:-

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Federal Public Service Commission has a key role in making appointments of the public servants. Ironically, it has limited purview for appointments in BPS-16 and above only. Moreover, the autonomous and Constitutional bodies are providing lucrative jobs on less competitive exams unlike to the FPSC. Resultantly the objective of meritocracy quality in services, good governance and professionalism in public offices could not be achieved. Therefore, it is imperative that all the posts in BPS-11 and above in all the public sector entities should be filled in through FPSC. Moreover, the Commission takes long time to complete its recruitment process spreading on more than one and half year. It has also been proposed in the Bill to bound the Commission to complete its recruitment process within a period of six months. For this purpose the Commission may increase its strength of members and staff as well as improve its system following the best practices in this field.

The Bill seeks to achieve the afore-said objectives.
